Supervisors Discuss Plans For a Great Coast Highway

Supervisors representing the coast counties from Humboldt on the north to San Luis Obispo on the south met in San Francisco last week and agreed upon a tentative plan of co-operation for the purpose of supplementing United States Highway 101 in such a manner as to make it an all-shore-line road from British Columbia to Mexico.

This movement, originating with the National Automobile Club through its field secretary, Ben How, has been under development for some time, and the meeting of last week was due to the co-operation of Supervisor Charles F. Todd of San Francisco, who invited the different county supervisors to meet in one of the committee rooms of the city hall.

A preliminary organization was formed which will further discuss the matter at the annual convention of the State Association of Supervisors to be held in Sacramento in March.

Under the United States highway plan which has been officially approved by the secretary of agriculture, United States Highway No. 101, starting at Port Angeles, Wash., and ending at the Mexican line below San Diego, follows the shore line closely except between Eureka and Sausalito, and San Francisco and Gaviota.

To supply shore-line roads in these sections is the plan of the National Automobile Club, and it is their declaration that "these links, when completed, will supply the world's most scenic highway, about 1700 miles in length, within sound of the Pacific ocean practically all the way."

Weekly Building Page Is Started

The Torrance Herald and Lomita News herewith introduce their weekly building page. Each week on this page we will publish plans for a modern dwelling.

Interest in building in Torrance and vicinity is high at present and daily the need of new homes becomes more urgent. 3 Bad Men at Torrance Theatre Two More Days

Film Feature Deals With Carving Out of an Empire

"3 Bad Men," an inspired screen story of one of the most romantic periods in the history of American empire building, dealing with the opening of the many millions of acres of Indian land to the white man, will be the feature, event which will continue Thursday and Friday at the Torrance Theatre.

"3 Bad Men" will stagger by the immensity of its theme and the grandeur of its production. Over 15,000 people appear in some of the scenes, depicting the never-to-be-forgotten invasion of the Dakotas. The horses, oxen, dogs, cattle, prairie wagons and other vehicles, including bicycles, surreys, wheelbarrows, hand wagons and prairie schooners, run into the thousands. The huge sets reach proportions where mere figures become meaningless.

A courageous but inexperienced young wife, who would rather wait table for rough but kindly cowboys than submit to the humiliation of a brutal husband, is the plot of Hoot Gibson's picture, "The Silent Rider," a Universal-Jewel production coming to the Torrance Theatre Saturday.

The story is an adaptation of "The Red Headed Husband," a magazine story by Katherine Newlin Burt, and deals with the maze of circumstances involving Gibson and his partner in a murder and payroll robbery, and their vindication. The love theme is particularly appealing in that it shows that love of a mother for her child knows no bounds.

The latest Christie comedy, "The Nervous Wreck," which comes to the Torrance Theatre Sunday and Monday, is said to be quite worth while as a laugh-producer. It was hailed on its premier showing in New York as perhaps the best comedy of the decade. The cast includes such screen favorites as Harrison Ford, Phyllis Haver, Chester Conklin, Mack Swain, Robert Bosworth, Vera Steadman, Paul Nicholson, and Charles Gerrard.

Doris Lloyd, former London music hall comedienne, plays her second role on the screen in "Exit Smiling," the hilarious comedy of stage life coming Tuesday to the Torrance Theatre. She deserted the stage to play "Limehouse Polly" in "The Blackbird" at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, and her success led to the role of "Olga" in the new picture, in which Beatrice Lillie (Lady Peel), star of "Charlot's Revue," makes her screen debut with Jack Pickford and a big cast.

Candles

ON February 22, 1817, George Washington's birthday was celebrated with much pomp at Washington Hall, Philadelphia. 2,000 candles were used to light the hall on that occasion.

Candles are much cheaper now than they were at that time. Yet electric lighting is 200 times less expensive than candles are today. Today you can burn a 50-watt lamp three hours for less than one cent.

"Good lighting is the cheapest thing you can buy. Use more of it."
